Very approachable but still decent levels of complexity. Soft and fruity with raisin and honey notes lingering the most.

Cragganmore 12 Years Old

An aromatic blast of citrus to begin with – orange and lemon oil then soft aromas of toffee, roasted almonds and malted biscuits follow. Very clean and appetising with a gentle floral character. The fresh citrus notes continue on to the palate, joined by sweet toffee, malt and oat biscuits. The gentle malt fades lightly. A wonderful aperitif, this is subtle and moreish.

SINGLE MALT | SCOTLAND, ISLAY

Ardbeg 10 Years Old

A range of vanilla leads to mountain of peat capped with citrus fruits and circled by clouds of sea spray. Sweet vanilla counterbalanced with lemon and lime followed by that surging Ardbeg smoke that we all know and love. Long and glorious; sea salted caramel and beach bonfire smoke.

Ardbeg 1999 Galileo 12 Years Old

Clear, light coppery amber. Dried apricot fruits with clove infused linseed oil and faint toffee and fudge. Rich, fruity and spicy with just enough dry sandalwood, bitter almond and tea like tannins to add balance and depth.

Ardbeg 21 Years Old

Old gold. Though old however the peat isn't as pronounced. Very coastal at first, with salt-spray and lemon juice. Once that settles there's a beautiful sweet peat note mixing with the vanilla from the American oak. Smoked salmon. Sage. Assam tea. Burnt bacon. The peat is gentle but there's plenty of peppery warmth – either from the peat or the wood, it's quite tightly bound together. Very mossy and herbal: sage and thyme. Hemp. Vanilla returns, perhaps with a touch of floral honey combined. Tinned tomatoes. The pepper returns on a lingering finish.

Ardbeg 1973 Single Bourbon Cask #1146

Aroma is rich and sweet, bursting in flavor. Delicious mixture of custard creams. With water, the aroma becomes immensely creamy, oily and floral. Floral and smoky bringing currants and dates.

Ardbeg 1976 Single Sherry Cask #2396

Hints of marzipan and toasted coconut emerge with a subtle whiff of fresh paint. The perfume of parma violets and jasmine tea emerges with hints of coconut. The taste becomes biscuit with hints of ginger biscuit.

Caol Ila 12 Years Old

Fresh, herbal with rubbed peppermint leaves, damp grass, smoky. Oily, cigar leaves, smoked ham. Good body, elegant smoke. Hints of boiled sweets. Long peppery, spicy warmth after finish.

Caol Ila 17 Years Old

Fruity with zesty orange or mandarin, then slowly becomes sweeter and denser, with malt and hard toffee, creamy vanilla. Lightly smoky and fresh-clean aroma. With water the taste is softer yet somehow more pronounced. Still salty but with a mineral edge and a peppery across the tongue. Quietly clean and leathery with pleasantly smooth tannins.

HANYU

The Hanyu whisky distillery was located in a town of the same name. The company was founded by the Akuto family, who had been in brewing business since the 1600s. In the midst of war in 1941, Isouji Akuto, the 19th generation of the Akuto family, built the Hanyu distillery in Hanyu, northwest of Tokyo. Unfortunately, Hanyu stopped making whisky in 2000 and the pot still stills and distilling equipment were dismantled in 2004. But in 2008, Ichiro Akuto, the grandson of the founder, purchased the mature stock and distilling facilities and restarted production. He is the only new whisky distillery opened in Japan since the 1970s. Small and charming, the new distillery and Ichiro's Malt Whisky series has something of a cult following.

COCKTAIL

A cocktail is a type of mixed drink, commonly containing one or more combination of alcoholic spirits and liqueurs and may contain juices, sodas and other flavours or colours.

Boulevardier

Elijah Craig, Carpano Antic Formula, Mansino Secco, Campari, Orange Bitters

Its creation is ascribed to Erskine Gwynne, an American-born writer who founded a monthly magazine in Paris called Boulevardier, which appeared from 1927 to 1932. The Boulevardier is similar to a Negroni, sharing two of its three ingredients. It is differentiated by its use of bourbon whisky or rye whisky as its principal component instead of gin.

Clover Club

Brooklyn Gin, Fresh Lemon Juice, Egg White, St. George Raspberry

It is a drink that pre-dates Prohibition, and is named for the Philadelphia men's club of the same name, which met in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. The Clover Club itself dates to 1896, as seen in the 1897 book, The Clover Club of Philadelphia, page 172 by Mary R. Deacon. Brooklyn's Clover Club restaurant claims that the Philadelphia men's club dates to 1882 and lasted until the 1920s.

Last Word

Sipsmith Gin, Fresh Lime Juice, Green Chartreuse, Luxardo Maraschino

This is a gin based prohibition-era cocktail originally developed at the Detroit Athletic Club. While the drink eventually fell out of favor, it has recently enjoyed a renewed popularity after being rediscovered as a cult hit in the Seattle area by bartender Murray Stenson.

Manhattan

Willet Rye, Carpano Antic Formula, Angostura Bitters

History suggests that the drink originated at the Manhattan Club in New York City in the early 1870s, where it was invented by Dr. Iain Marshall for a banquet hosted by Jennie Jerome (Lady Randolph Churchill, mother of Winston) in honour of presidential candidate Samuel J. Tilden. The success of the banquet made the drink fashionable, later prompting several people to request the drink by referring to the name of the club where it originated- "the Manhattan cocktail". However, Lady Randolph was in France at the time and pregnant, so the story is likely a fiction.

Martini (Ketel One Vodka / Tanqueray Ten Gin)

Ketel One Vodka/ Tanqueray Ten Gin, Lillet Blanc

The Martini is a cocktail made with vodka or gin with dry vermouth, and garnished with an olive or a lemon twist. Over the years, the Martini has become one of the best-known mixed alcoholic beverages. H.I. Mencken called the Martini "the only American invention as perfect as the sonnet" and E.B. White called it "the elixir of quietude".

THE WALL

COCKTAIL

A cocktail is a type of mixed drink, commonly containing one or more combination of alcoholic spirits and liqueurs and may contain juices, sodas and other flavours or colours.

Negroni

Sipsmith Gin, Mancino Secco, Campari, Orange Bitters

While the drink's origins are unknown, the most widely reported account is that it was first mixed in Florence, Italy, in 1919, at Caffè Casoni (formerly Caffè Giacosa), located on Via de' Tornabuoni and now called Caffè Roberto Cavalli. Count Camillo Negroni concocted it by asking the bartender, Foo Scarselli, to strengthen his favourite cocktail, the Americano, by adding gin rather than the normal soda water. The bartender also added an orange garnish rather than the typical lemon garnish of the Americano to signify that it was a different drink. Since the drink was conceived before the invention of dry gin, the kind of gin used would have likely been barrel aged or Old Tom style.

Old Fashioned

Four Roses Single Barrel Bourbon, Homemade Honey Syrup, Angostura Bitters, Orange Bitters

*The Old Fashioned is a cocktail made by muddling sugar with bitters, then adding alcohol, such as whiskey or brandy and a twist of citrus rind. It is traditionally served in a short, round tumbler-like glass, which is called an Old Fashioned glass, named after the drink. The Old Fashioned, developed during the 19th century and given its name in the 1880s, is an IBA Official Cocktail. It is also one of six basic drinks listed by David A. Embury's The Fine Art of Mixing Drinks.*

Sidecar

Remy Martin Cognac, Grand Marnier, Fresh Lemon Juice

In early editions of MacElhone's book, he cites the inventor as Pat MacGarry, "the popular bartender at Buck's Club, London", but in later editions he cites himself. Vermiere states that the drink was "very popular" in France. It was first introduced in London by MacGarry, the celebrated bartender of Buck's Club. Embury credits the invention of the drink to an American army captain in Paris during World War I and named after the motorcycle sidecar that the captain used.

Tommy's Margarita

Don Julio Blanco, Crawleys Agave Syrup, Fresh Lime Juice

Created in the early 1990s by Julio Bermejo and named after his family's Mexican restaurant and bar in San Francisco, the self-proclaimed "premier tequila bar on earth". Tomas and Elmy Bermejo set up Tommy's in 1965 and Julio is one of their five children, all of which are involved in what is a truly family business. Julio has become a legend in the drinks industry for the Tommy's Margarita and his knowledge of tequila.

Whiskey Sour

Buffalo Trace Bourbon, Fresh Lemon Juice, Simple Syrup, Angostura Bitters, Egg White

The oldest historical mention of a whiskey sour was published in the Wisconsin newspaper, Waukesha Plain Dealer, in 1870. In 1962, the Universidad del Cuyo published a story, citing the Peruvian newspaper El Comercio de Iquique, which indicated that Elliott Stubb created the "Whiskey Sour" in 1872.

APERITIF

An aperitif is an alcoholic beverage usually served before a meal to stimulate the appetite.

Campari

A 19th century bitters in Milan by Gaspare Campari. It is made by infusing bitter herbs, plants and fruit in alcohol and water.

Carpano Antica

Bouquet of vanilla with spicy, citrusy and dried fruit notes of almond, raisin and cloves. Rich vanilla taste that picks up the aromas from the nose.

Cynar

Sweet and bitter with a hint of rust on the nose. The taste is initially light & sugary in stark contrast to Cynar's dark colour. The finish is bitter, akin to a light espresso finish.

Fernet Branca

Aromatic, bitter, earthy with orange saffron and other lighter scents like myrrh in the background. Packed with peppermint, menthol and a punch of spice.

Mancino Chinato

A blend of the three Mancino vermouths - Secco, Bianca and Rosso with Barbera d'Asti D.O.C.G and pure quinine from the calisaya bark. It contains all the hallmarks of the Mancino vermouth portfolio; it lingers with a rich, deep and red bitter wine palette makes a notable digestive or aperitif.

Mancino Rosso

This is part of a new brand of vermouth, a drink where you don't often see new brands popping up left and right. This is their Rosso Amaranto, made with a blend of 38 botanicals, a recipe created by Giancarlo Mancino himself.

Mancino Secco

A herbal, slightly nutty white vermouth made to a recipe created by renowned bartender Giancarlo Mancino using 19 botanicals, including Sage, Marjoram and Oregano.

Punt e Mes

The initial taste is one of sweetness, characterized by an intriguing accent of orange. This is followed by the characteristically bitter taste of the quina and ends on a sweet note.

Rinomato

Ails from a collaboration between renowned bartender Giancarlo Mancino and his American partner, Fasel Shenstone. Born from the infusion of hand-selected botanicals into a distillate, Rinomato exhibits rich aromas of orange peel, vanilla, gentian root, cinchona bark and wormwood. An initial sweetness on the palate carries those aromas into a long and ever-intensifying bitter finish that remains in perfect balance with texture and spice.
